

Ran Zhou, CFA

+1 213-317-7401 | ran.zhou.phd@anderson.ucla.edu | ranzhouucla.github.io

Education

UCLA, Anderson School of Management Ph.D. Management (Finance Concentration), Anderson Fellowship	Los Angeles, USA 2023–Present
Tsinghua University, School of Economics and Management M.A. Finance, Rank: 1/106; National Graduate Scholarship	Beijing, China 2015–2018
Central University of Finance and Economics, School of Insurance B.S. Economics (Insurance Concentration), Rank: 1/122; 3 Academic Excellence Awards	Beijing, China 2011–2015

Research Interests

Sovereign Wealth Funds, International Capital Flows, International Finance, Private Capital

Working Papers

Geofinance: Following Sovereign Capital Home (Job Market Paper)

I show that sovereign wealth fund financing redirects recipient activity toward SWF home countries, especially when external finance is costly, and creates bilateral links that raise FDI and banking flows by about 5–8 percent.

The Geoeconomic Role of Sovereign Wealth Funds: Effects on Global Trade (SSRN), with Jinyuan Zhang, Politics in Finance Conference at Georgetown University

Each dollar invested by a developing-country SWF generates about 14 cents in additional exports to advanced economies, with SWFs acting as “credibility bridges” for weak home institutions.

How do Macroeconomy and Federal Reserve Policies Affect Private Capital Prices?, with Yujie Liu and Mingzhe Zhang, paper submitted to the People’s Bank of China for policy making in 2021

Economic growth and global credit are two main factors explaining global private capital returns from 2001–2020.

Publications

The Investment Efficiency of China’s Outward Foreign Direct Investment (OFDI) along the Belt and Road: Based on the Perspective of Technology Spillover and Economic Growth, with Mingzhe Zhang and Xin Li, Macroeconomics (CSSCI journal), 46–58, 2022(03)

China’s OFDI benefits 64 Belt and Road countries’ economic growth through technology and knowledge spillovers with heterogeneous effects by region.

Teaching Experience

Foundations of Finance, MBA Core Course Teaching Assistant for Professor Barney Hartman-Glaser, Anderson School of Management, UCLA	2024–Present
---	--------------

Professional Experience

Silk Road Fund Senior Manager, Research Department	Beijing, China 12/2019–08/2023
--	-----------------------------------

BlackRock China Client Business Team Analyst	Hong Kong, China 08/2018–10/2019
--	-------------------------------------

Miscellaneous

Languages: Chinese (native), English (proficient, GRE: 342/346), French (basic)

Coding: R, Python, MATLAB, Stata; Interests: Tennis (level 3.5), Yoga (instructor level), Fashion